William Street Gateway Arch and Sign Dedication

At the dedication ceremony, Dennis Cunningham, our CCA President, gave a brief history of the project and thanked the many who made it possible. John Engell authored and delivered the following poem titled:

DEDICATION OF THE WILLIAM STREET PARK GARDENS AND WELCOMING ARCH AND SIGN - 12 NOVEMBER 2011

There's magic here
and hard work, too:
imagination,
dedication,
persistence, love—
along with nurturing hands
and good strong backs.

Ideas aren't enough.
It's from the doing,
from the acts of work
that beauty blossoms here.

Saturday morning, November 12th, found about 75 Naglee Park neighbors gathered at the park for the dedication of the William Street Park Garden and Gateway Arch. The wildflower garden is the result of a lot of hard work on the part of Peter Waite and Karen English along with many others who have come out to plant, weed, and prune. The Gateway Arch began as a dream of Karen English. Three years in the making, it would not have happened without the joint efforts of the Campus Community Association, the City of San Jose, and Keep San Jose Beautiful. The arch was designed by Adam Jacobsen. Brian Padilla of Brian's Welding did the iron work; and Mark Negrete, the "William Street Park" sign lettering.

Thanks go to the City of San Jose Parks, Recreation and Neighborhood Services. Thanks to CCA President Dennis Cunningham for his excellent project coordination efforts with the engineers, artists, and city staff keeping this project moving and on schedule. Thanks to Sam Liccardo who kept things moving at the City of San Jose at critical times.

Thanks to Karen English, Peter Waite, and Dennis Cunningham. Thanks to all the Artisans involved in creating the Arch. Thanks to the CCA Beautification Committee and CCA Median Buddies for their work making our neighborhood beautiful. Thanks to the Bark in the Park Committee for their efforts in raising the funds to pay for the many beautification projects. Thanks to the many, many friends and neighbors who made this garden and gateway arch possible.

Karen English cut the ribbon and was presented with a large bouquet of flowers. Throughout the ceremony, she held a corsage of white roses sent to her by Mary Hart. All present, including Zoe Lofgren and Sam Liccardo scattered wild flower seeds throughout the Gateway Garden. Kudos to Bev Fitzwater who planned this dedication ceremony and who made it happen with the help of CCA Beautification Committee and the Median Buddies.

Editor's Notes

by Ken Podgorssek, Editor

Last December I had the pleasure to run into an old friend that I hadn't seen in years. This is one of those fun aspects about the holidays. As we were catching up, he asked me what I did for fun nowadays. Well I stopped to think and realized that I could only come up with hobbies and activities that I did in the past, but nothing that I was doing currently. I realized that it was time to start taking a look at how I spent my time. So as I started 2011, I started examining everything that I did and asked myself if it was time to rethink how I wanted to spend my time.

After 7 years as the CCA Advisor Editor, this is my last Advisor as editor, which means we are looking for a new editor. Interested, contact the CCA Board at executive@nagleepark.org and we can talk about what is involved. It has been a pleasure serving the neighborhood as the Advisor Editor, but it is time to offer this opportunity to another neighbor.

We had a great Bark in the Park this year. We still remain the largest Dog Festival in the United States. It was a great family friendly day enjoyed by over 15,000 visitors to our neighborhood. This event could not be pulled off without the many, many volunteer hours that are invested by our neighbors. Many thanks to the Bark in the Park Chair Team: Farrell May Podgorssek, Judy Connor, Bob Kennedy, Beth Shafran-Mukai, Dennis Cunningham, Pat Colombe Chris Esparza, Annie Hermes, Kim Aldridge and Lorene Sisson. They are a great team. I have had the pleasure to serve as the Chair with these very committed neighbors these past 9 years. I recently announced to the Bark in the Park Committee and the CCA Board that the 2011 Bark in the Park would be my last as event chair. We have accomplished many goals including significant investments into the Beautification of our neighborhood. Did you get a chance to see the beautiful new William Street Park sign? The sign was paid for with Bark in the Park funds, a grant from San Jose Beautiful, and funds from the City of San Jose. The overall project was managed by CCA Beautification. We all owe many thanks to the CCA Beautification Committee for the management and volunteer activity on our neighborhood beautification making our neighborhood such a great community.

The CCA ended another fiscal year on June 30, 2011. As CCA Treasurer, I can tell you that the CCA continues to remain financially strong. The CCA Board, these past 20 years has built a solid financial policy that guarantees our neighborhood projects will continue for many years to come. If you would like to review the Campus Community Association 2010-11 990 (Federal Filing), it is posted online at www.nagleepark.org/aboutus.html. I am always available at treasurer@nagleepark.org to answer questions about CCA Finances.

Well, the Holiday Season is here. Hope to see you at the Naglee Park Holiday Social on December 17. It is always a great social and opportunity to spend a nice time with your neighbors. I want to wish each of you the Happiest of Holidays and a very prosperous New Year.

Bark in the Park™

Do You Dislike Graffiti?

By Carolyn Lockhart

Two years ago, several graffiti tags appeared in front of my house. Angry and appalled, I began to notice that our neighborhood was covered in graffiti. Every street corner, stop sign, parking sign and even some fences were spray painted in a mixture of gang code and profanity. I was compelled to do something about it.

The internet led me to the city of San Jose's Parks and Recreation department. This is where I learned that the most important thing about graffiti removal was to abate within 24 hours. Graffiti attracts graffiti I was told, and was urged not to hesitate to call the hotline for every single tag I saw. I immediately went about my mission to clean up Naglee Park by calling in over a hundred tags every week to this hotline. It was incredible. I would call in thirty tags at a time, and the next day (or sometimes the day after that) those tags would be gone. I managed to keep this going for a year and a half, and was successful in keeping the tags to a manageable minimum, although they never completely stopped. And then the city of San Jose's ever dwindling budget required an outsourcing of the graffiti removal service. I called in my tags as usual to the new service, but yet days went by, and then weeks and the tags were not only still there, but multiplying. I was told that the neighborhoods were now low priority, and that the days of 24 hour service were long gone. Given what I have heard over and over about the importance of promptness in removing tags, I worried that this new service was going to ruin all my past efforts. I began spending a lot of my free time removing as many tags as I could, but much to my dismay they were still multiplying.

Thanks to the CCA list, there are now 25 other people in our neighborhood watching over Naglee Park's blocks and removing tags as they appear! I'm thrilled to say this is helping enormously, as I hope you can tell on your travels through the neighborhood. But there are still several blocks which have yet to be spoken for. Our beautiful neighborhood needs you! If you would like to adopt a block or two, please email me at carolynjlockhart@yahoo.com. A little effort now could lead us to a time where Naglee Park is known as a "don't bother tagging" zone. How wonderful that would be.

Naglee Park Open Studios 2012

Christmas may be on your mind now, but it's not too early to think about Naglee Park Open Studios 2012 on Sunday, June 10, 2012! Naglee Park Open Studios offers a great way to meet your neighbors and local artists while enjoying a walk through the 'hood. Artist applications will be available in January. Volunteers are welcome at any time! We need an Artist Coordinator, Tech Person, Co-Chair, and a Writer. If you are interested in volunteering, please email Lynda Sereno at npos@nagleepark.org. DRC's Report

Bark in the Park... what a great event! This year I saw so many new and interesting ways humans have created to make our lives more fulfilling. I especially liked the "Take a Hike with Your Dog" booth and the many artists prepared to memorialize us on canvas, porcelain and wood. My brother, Cooper, and I always look forward to stopping by the Downtown Feed Store booth to give Sam a bump. But what's up with the rule that kept dogs 20 feet away from the food booths? Are we being profiled? Have they been downtown to see us seated politely under the sidewalk tables—?

A special bark out to our friends Ken and Farrell for their hard work in shepherding this event so successfully. And speaking of shepherding, did you see that dog from Australia who worked those sheep around the park. I do not have the patience. I would just snarl and bark menacingly. It works on the human who brings the mail.

Speaking of menace...I don't understand leaf blowers. It is one of those human enigmas that are beyond canine understanding—such as killing the other guy after he signals that he quits, or cleaning the cat box. Leaf blowers: I hate the noise and I don't understand what good it does to blow stuff from one place to another. What happened to rakes?

And speaking of blowing stuff around, some of our humans are agitated over the humans who go through their trash bins and take stuff. The noisy early morning search can be annoying, but if you wait an hour the leaf blowers will arrive and make real noise to cheer your day.

Have you noticed that young humans are painting messages on our fences, sidewalks and walls? I have no idea why they do that, but it causes my humans to get very excited and mill about. I think it is the same thing that Cooper does on our walks. He must have a bladder the size of a dog biscuit. I guess we are lucky that the kids just use spray paint to let us know that they have been here.

November is always a good month in the neighborhood and it brings to an end the exciting Halloween festivities. The vans and busses that brought small humans to our doors have left and we can prepare to welcome the new arrivals from the harsh eastern places. By the time you read this, I could be huddled with my humans in the carport as we wait for the end of the shaking times. But, from what I hear, the heavens have sent biblical pain to dogs and humans all over the places east of here.

Prepare to welcome the refugees. Here are some suggestions:

1. Do not allow unaltered pit bulls to play in the dog parks.
2. If your human employs someone who uses a leaf blower. Bite both of them.
3. If your human is the person who uses the leaf blower, chew his leg off.
4. If you turned all of your lights off and pretended that you were not home on Halloween, high five.
5. Be prepared to limit your barking at the mail person on fewer days a week.
6. Wolves rule

Bark on.
